WIRELESS AUDIO CONFERENCE SYSTEM

► VOK-ENG: Radio communication system dedicated to industry. For professionals working in demanding environments.

ONE SOLUTION

► Constraints specific to the industry (work hard, handling heavy loads, repetitive, potentially dangerous situations) need to work safely. A clear and understandable communication significantly reduces the risks of misunderstanding.

The communication system Vokkero® «VOK-ENG» allows to communicate instantly up to 800m. This system requires no fixed installation nor base station.

The patented noise filter eliminates all background noise, allowing only the voice. Its hands-free operation is especially suitable for use while wearing safety helmets and protective clothing, essential items in high risk areas. It allows to be fully focused on his job (handling of machines, control of hoists, metal forming, industrial printing ...) while remaining in continuous audio conference with his teammates.

Another advantage is a wireless interface «WI» allows the connection of a system Vokkero® to any type of existing intercoms allowing contact between a mobile team and a control room.
